Ready, Set, Draw!

At Stanborough, the art department procures their equipment from a variety of sources. One of the shops we use most often is specialist craft.

Every year they launch a competition to design the front of their new catalogue cover. Not only will the winner get their work printed on the front of the catalogue, but also receive a £200 voucher to spend on their art, craft, and design materials! Believe me when I say they sell more than just paint!

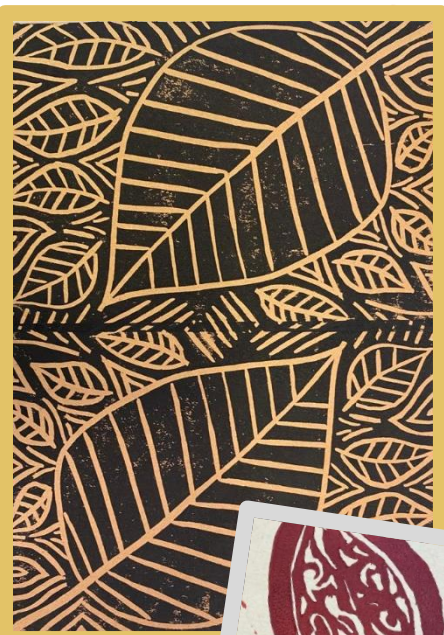

If you have original artwork you would like to enter, please send it to gallery@specialistcrafts.com.

You must include your name, age, title of work, medium used, and the name of your school and that you are at secondary school.

Work submitted for the Catalogue Cover Competition must be supplied in a digital format and be at least 300 dpi, 10cm sq., in a suitable file format e.g. a Jpeg, PDF or Tiff. You can't copy any work, it has to be original. The deadline is December 20th 2020. Good luck!

Un Be-Leaf-able quality

The season of mist and mellow fruitlessness is upon us. What a gorgeous way to celebrate the falling of leaves than by poly-board printing? Our A-level students have been drawing from life using the dropped leaves on the grounds as well as going for "woodland walks" to gain a wider range of foliage from which to draw their inspiration

NEW STUDENT SHOUT-OUT!

Yum! Yum!

Year 9 have been filling the art corridor with beautiful smells once again! On the menu this week was cheese and onion parcels with pastry made from scratch. If hospitality and catering is a course you're interested in please speak to Ms Adamson or email JAdamson@stanborough.herts.sch.uk for more information!

I can't resistor

Year 7 3d design have been trying their hands at a bit of wood work this term. These cute wooden robots are a great way to introduce our students to basic sawing, sanding, and screwing skills. I love all the cute features made from knuts, bolts and spare resistors. Well done year 7! These look great! I wonder what you'll be making in year 8...

Yr. 7's got talent

In photography class, pupils have been looking at an artist that takes inspiration from the work around them. On a crisp autumn day Year 7 was able to walk around the grounds and capture some of the gorgeous nature we have here at Stanborough. Each rotation will have a chance to complete this project. If you would like to have a go yourself then I suggest using a thicker weight of paper or card and scissors or a craft knife while under supervision of an adult. Send your photos into Hcarter@stanborough.herts.sch.uk for a chance to be featured in an upcoming issue.

Monster Talent!

Year 7 Are in rotation this year. They equally split their time between Graphics, Photography, and 3D Design. In graphics students explore creative drawing techniques through character and packaging design! They are making a popcorn box in response to a brief set by an imaginary cinema. We can't wait to see how good their boxes will look filled with delicious pop-corn!
