Grow and Succeed

High Expectations | Mutual Respect | Quality Learning | Success for All

This policy is set within the school's four principles of:

High Expectations Quality Learning Mutual Respect Success for all

1. Introduction

The School recognises that by efficiently managing its records, it will be able to comply with its legal and regulatory obligations and to contribute to the effective overall management of the school. Records provide evidence for protecting the legal rights and interests of the school and provide evidence for demonstrating performance and accountability.

2. Scope of the policy

This policy applies to all records created, received or maintained by staff of the school in the course of carrying out its functions.

Records are defined as all those documents which facilitate the business carried out by the school and which are thereafter retained (for a set period) to provide evidence of its transactions or activities. These records may be created, received or maintained in hard copy or electronically.

A small percentage of the school's records will be selected for permanent preservation as part of the institution's archives and for historical research. This should be done in liaison with the County Archives Service.

3. Responsibilities

The school has a responsibility to maintain its records and record keeping systems in accordance with the regulatory environment.

The school will give guidance for good records management practice and will promote compliance with this policy so that information will be retrieved easily, appropriately and in a timely way. It will also monitor compliance with this policy by surveying at least annually to check if records are stored securely and can be accessed appropriately.

Individual staff and employees must ensure that records for which they are responsible are accurate and are maintained and disposed of in accordance with the school's records management guidelines.

4. Student Records

Managing Student Records

The student record should be seen as the core record charting an individual student's progress through the Education System. The student record should accompany the student to every school they attend and should contain information that is accurate, objective and easy to access. These guidelines are based on the assumption that the student record is a principal record and that all information relating to the student will be found in the file (although it may spread across more than one file cover).

4.1 File covers for student records

A consistent file cover will be used for the student record. This assists to ensure consistency of practice and ensures all the necessary information is collated and the record looks tidy, and reflects the fact that it is the principal record containing all the information about an individual child.

4.2 School records

Items which should be included on the student record (which may span across different files or be held online):

- Admission form (application form)
- Consent information, where separate to the admissions form
- Years Record
- Annual Written Report to Parents
- Any information relating to a major incident involving the child (either an accident or other incident)
- Any reports written about the child
- Any information about a EHCP and support offered in relation to the EHCP
- Any relevant medical information
- Child protection reports/disclosures
- Any information relating to exclusions (fixed or permanent)
- Any correspondence with parents or outside agencies relating to major issues
- Details of any complaints made by the parents or the student

The following records should be stored separately to the above as they are subject to shorter retention periods.

- Absence notes
- Parental consent forms for trips/outings (in the event of a major incident all the parental consent forms should be retained with the incident report not in the student record)
- Correspondence with parents about minor issues
- Accident forms (these should be stored separately and retained on the school premises until their statutory retention period is reached. A copy could be placed on the student file in the event of a major incident)

4.3 Responsibility for the student record once the student leaves the school

The school which the student attended until statutory school leaving age is responsible for retaining the student record until the student reaches the age of 25 years. (See the retention schedule for further information).

4.4 Safe destruction of the student record

The student record should be disposed of in accordance with the safe disposal of records guidelines.

4.5 Transfer of a student record outside the EU area

In the event of a request to transfer a student file outside the EU area because a student has moved into that area, the Local Authority will be contacted for further advice.

4.6 Storage of student records

All student records should be kept securely at all times. Paper records, for example, should be kept in lockable storage areas with restricted access, and the contents should be secure within the file. Equally, electronic records should have appropriate security.

Access arrangements for student records should ensure that confidentiality is maintained whilst equally enabling information to be shared lawfully and appropriately, and to be accessible for those authorised to see it.

5. Safe disposal of records which have reached the end of their administrative life

This guidance applies to all types of record, whether they are in paper or digital format.

5.1 Disposal of records that have reached the end of the minimum retention period allocated

The UK GDPR states that 'Personal data processed for any purpose or purposes shall not be kept for longer than is necessary for that purpose or those purposes'

5.2 Safe destruction of records

All records containing personal information, or sensitive policy information should be made either unreadable or unreconstructable e.g.

- Paper records should be shredded using a cross-cutting shredder
- CDs/DVDs etc should be cut into pieces
- Audio/Video tapes and Fax Rolls should be dismantled and shredded
- Hard Disks should be dismantled and sanded and/or physically destroyed

Any other records should be bundled up and disposed of to a waste paper merchant or disposed of in other secure/appropriate ways e.g. confidential waste bins/bags.

There are companies who can provide confidential waste bins and other services to ensure that records are disposed of in an appropriate way. Where an external provider is used it is recommended that all records are shredded on-site in the presence of an employee. The school must also be able to prove that the records have been destroyed by the company who should provide a Certificate of Destruction.

The shredding needs to be planned with specific dates and all records should be identified as to the date of destruction.

It is important to understand that if the records are recorded as to be destroyed but have not yet been destroyed and a request for the records has been received, they MUST still be provided.

Where records are destroyed internally, the process must ensure that all records are recorded are authorised to be destroyed by a Senior Manager and the destruction recorded. Records should be shredded as soon as the record has been documented as being destroyed.

5.3 Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FoIA 2000)

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the school to maintain a list of records which have been destroyed and who authorised their destruction¹⁰. Members of staff should record at least:

- File reference (or other unique identifier);
- File title (or brief description);
- Number of files and date range
- The name of the authorising officer
- Date action taken

Following this guidance will ensure that the school is compliant with the UK GDPR and the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

5.4 Transfer of records to the Archives

Where records have been identified as being worthy of permanent preservation arrangements should be made to transfer the records to the County Archives Service. The school should contact the local record office if there is a requirement to permanently archive the records, and the records will continue to be managed via the UK GDPR and the FoIA 2000.

Archiving records to be stored in the school for use with students and parents should be undertaken in liaison with the Local Authority and/or local record office.

5.5 Transfer of information to other media

Where lengthy retention periods have been allocated to records, members of staff may wish to consider converting paper records to digital media. The lifespan of the media and the ability to migrate data where necessary should always be considered.

Consideration should also be given to the legal admissibility of records that have been converted from paper to electronic media. It is essential to have procedures in place so that conversion is done in a standard way. This means that organisations can prove that the electronic version is a genuine original and could not have been tampered with in any way. Reference should be made to 'British Standard 10008:2008 'Evidential weight and legal admissibility of electronic information' when preparing such procedures.

5.6 Recording of all archiving, permanent destruction and digitisation of records

Records of all archiving, destruction and digitisation of records is required, showing dates, authorisation and method.

6. Retention Guidelines

6.1 The purpose of the retention guidelines

Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, schools are required to maintain a retention schedule listing the record series which the school creates in the course of its business. The retention schedule lays down the length of time which the record needs to be retained and the action which should be taken when it is of no further administrative use. The retention schedule lays down the basis for normal processing under both the UK GDPR and the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Staff are expected to manage their current record keeping systems using the retention schedule and to take account of the different kinds of retention periods when they are creating new record keeping systems.

The retention schedule refers to record series regardless of the media in which they are stored.

6.2 Benefits of a retention schedule

There are a number of benefits which arise from the use of a complete retention schedule:

Managing records against the retention schedule is deemed to be "normal processing" under the UK GDPR and the Freedom of Information Act 2000. Members of staff should be aware that once a Freedom of Information request is received or a legal hold imposed then records disposal relating to the request or legal hold must be stopped.

Staff can be confident about safe disposal information at the appropriate time.

Information which is subject to Freedom of Information and Data Protection legislation will be available when required. The school is not maintaining and storing information unnecessarily.

6.3 Maintaining and amending the retention schedule

Where appropriate the retention schedule should be reviewed and amended to include any new record series created and remove any obsolete record series.

The retention schedule adopted from the 2016 IRMS Toolkit for Schools version 5

This retention schedule contains recommended retention periods for the different record series created and maintained by schools in the course of their business. The schedule refers to all information regardless of the media in which it is stored.

Some of the retention periods are governed by statute. Others are guidelines following best practice.

Managing record series using these retention guidelines will be deemed to be “normal processing” under data protection legislation. If record series are to be kept for longer or shorter periods than laid out in this document the reasons for this need to be documented.

This schedule should be reviewed on an annual basis.

6.4 Using the Retention Schedule

The Retention Schedule is divided into 8 sections:

- 1 Management of the School
- 2 Human Resources
- 3 Financial Management of the School
- 4 Property Management
- 5 Student Management
- 6 Curriculum Management
- 7 Extra-Curricular Activities
- 8 Central Government and Local Authority
